The California Energy Commission is looking for a qualified candidate for the Siting, Transmission and Environmental Protection (STEP) division to help shape California's critical energy future. The STEP division ensures that energy facilities are authorized in an expeditious, safe and environmentally acceptable manner. We prepare environmental documentation for the Commission as required by the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). To attain our objectives, the division maintains a committed and creative staff of experts in more than 20 environmental and engineering disciplines. The division's range of technical expertise allows it to perform balanced independent evaluations of complex and controversial projects.

DUTIES/RESPONSIBILITIES: Under the direct supervision of the Biological Resources Unit Senior, the Energy Analyst will participate in environmental analyses of average difficulty assessing biological resource implications for energy facility siting cases and planning studies. The incumbent will assist Planners by gathering data, drafting analyses, and providing support at workshops.

DESIRABLE EXPERIENCE/QUALIFICATIONS: The successful candidate must possess a Bachelors degree in natural sciences and have experience in biological resources fieldwork. Additional desirable qualifications include excellent writing, editing, communication and organization skills, as well as the ability to manage multiple assignments with varying priorities. Candidates should have general knowledge of CEQA, the Commission's Siting Regulations and California's diverse environment. The incumbent must have proficient computer skills in using MS word, Excel spreadsheet, presentation and graphing programs, electronic mail, internet. The successful candidate will be required to have the ability, as well as flexibility to travel for participation in site visits, public workshops and hearings.

WHO MAY APPLY: Eligible candidates who are current state employees with status in the above classification, lateral transfers from an equivalent class who meet the minimum qualifications of this classification, former state employees who can reinstate into this class or persons who are reachable on a current employment list for this classification. Appointment is subject to the provisions of the SROA process: SROA/SURPLUS/ REEMPLOYMENT candidates are encouraged to apply and must attach a copy of their status letter in order to be considered. Applications will be screened and the most qualified may be contacted for an interview.
